The Global Citizenship Program is specifically designed to help you develop the skills necessary to be a global citizen and to have those skills recognised in a formal way. To become a global citizen, you will need to participate in a number of internationally-related activities that will assist you to develop key personal, academic and careers skills.

Each activity is given a point value based on its associated skills and the extent to which each skill is developed. In addition to participating in the designated internationally-related activities, you may be required to reflect on how the activity has contributed to your development as a global citizen. The Global Citizenship Program is designed to be completed before you graduate.

Once you have acquired the set number points and skills, you will be awarded the Global Citizenship Program Certificate that will list the activities and the skills you have gained. This will assist you in communicating to future employers the additional skills you can offer in this increasingly globalised world.

You will need to participate in a variety of activities such as international study, volunteering, internships, conferences, or units, or domestic activities with an international focus.

You will need to earn a total of at least 100 activity points, as well as develop at least 17 of the 20 skills of global citizenship. The skills required to become a global citizen and the activities are listed on the GCP Activities and Outcome table below to assist you with this process.

If the activity is not listed but you believe the activity has contributed towards you becoming a global citizen, please complete the GCP Petition for Additional Points form on page 4.

If you have questions or need assistance, drop in or contact the Study Abroad and Exchange office.
